

Coursework

Engl 151A Fall 11 | Christensen

Week 1 Announcements

- Welcome to your 151A course page. You should find most everything you need for the course here (aside from the course textbook, The Writer's Workplace with Readings, 7/e which is available now in the Ohlone bookstore on the main Fremont campus). The Coursework column below contains the daily agendas, including homework and lessons materials, for the current week and the next several upcoming - you can always check here to see what's due. The Resources column contains all of your downloadable assignment descriptions and lesson materials and some miscellaneous files at the bottom. The Calendar column contains lists of important dates, and it also has your lab materials and an "archive" of your weekly agendas from the Coursework column.
- Please be sure to download and print the Course Syllabus from the Resources column below and bring it with you to class on Wednesday of this first week.
